

WHO WE ARE

Promising Pages is a nonprofit organization that collects new and donated books and shares them with children living in the Charlotte Area Book Desert: those with few, if any, books at home. Our mission is to provide ownership of books to underserved children and cultivate a lifelong love of reading through innovative literacy programs and partnerships. We partner with more than 120 schools and other child-serving organizations to help students build home libraries and make reading a joyful habit for a lifetime.

2020 COVID-19 Response

The global COVID-19 pandemic has affected us all, and we have had to adapt to new ways of doing things. When the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools closed in March 2020, grab and go meals were provided for students who needed them at 69 school sites. CMS school board member Margaret Marshall asked if we could provide books to accompany these meals. Without volunteer support, our staff of four started work immediately, packaging books and preparing them for delivery. During this time, we took all necessary and prudent precautions to preserve the good health of ourselves, our families, and our students. Through our partnerships with CMS and the Mecklenburg County Sheriff's Office, our small team received additional help with book deliveries and school distributions.

To broaden our reach, and to supplement the books and meals with other important resources, we worked with other key partners including Communities in Schools, Classroom Central, Heart Math Tutoring, Augustine Literacy Project, Read Charlotte, Charlotte Family Housing, OURBridge, and the YMCA of Greater Charlotte. Between March 16 and June 30, we supplied more than 89,000 books to help students maintain their reading skills during this extended break from school.

Books on Break 2020 - Drive-through Edition!

The Books on Break program provides FREE pop-up book fairs, at select CMS elementary schools, before summer break. Students in Pre-K through 5th grade choose five books to take home and read over the summer months. This program is designed to reduce the "summer slide" children experience when they are out of school for extended periods of time.

So what do you do when school buildings are closed?

You get creative! We purchased metal display racks, bagged up all of the books in clear plastic bags so students could still choose, and set up our drive-through book fairs in the schools' parking lots. With masks and gloves on, our staff ...
